MEXICAN GOTHIC

Silvia Moreno-Garcia

Silvia Moreno-Garcia is a Canadian Mexican author who lives in Vancouver, B.C. This novel is the story of a young woman in 1950s Mexico, summoned to a small mining town to investigate if someone is trying to murder her cousin. A genre-bending read, Mexican Gothic combines historical fiction with gothic storytelling and a healthy splash of fantasy and horror.

OH SHE GLOWS COOKBOOKS (3)

Angela Liddon

Looking to grow in the kitchen? Angela Liddon, a New Brunswick born best-selling cookbook author, introduces vegan cooking through accessible and delicious recipes that don't require you to buy a bunch of special ingredients.

ENEMY ALIEN: A TRUE STORY OF LIFE BEHIND BARBED WIRE

Kassandra Luciuk

A graphic novel, illustrated by Nicole Marie Burton, that tackles historical Canadian events. This novel follows the story of John Boychuk, detained in an internment camp in Ontario in 1914. The novel is based on Boychuk's memoir, one of the few (if only) written historical records of internment life at the time.

RU

Kim Thúy

This is a novel by Vietnamese-born Canadian novelist Kim Thúy, which describes the life of a young woman and her journey from a palatial residence in Saigon, to a refugee camp in Malaysia, and finally to a home in Quebec, where she faces new challenges in adulthood and in becoming a mother.

SEVEN FALLEN FEATHERS: Racism Death and Hard Truths in a Northern City

Tanya Talaga

Using a sweeping narrative focusing on the lives of seven high school students who died hundreds of kilometers from their homes, award-winning author Tanya Talaga delves into the history of Thunder Bay, which has come to manifest Canada's long struggle with human rights violations against Indigenous communities (review paraphrased from that provided by the House of Anansi Press).
